RE: Andrews for Congress Committee C00243428

Dear Ms. Bacon:

This letter is in response to your letter dated November 8, 2007 regarding additional information needed about our October 2007 Quarterly Report, specifically the Committees determination of 'best efforts' in obtaining information from individuals.

I have amended the October 2007 Quarterly report to indicate the committee used its 'best efforts' to obtain the full identification information of all individuals who contribute in excess of $200 to the committee in an election cycle.

If a contributor does not provide all the requested identification information, as Treasurer, I either make a phone call to the individual, or if I do not have or cannot obtain a phone number, the committee sends a letter via mail, or email if that address is known, within 30 days of the receipt of the contribution.

The letter and/or the phone call clearly asks for the missing information without soliciting a contribution, reminds the contributor of the federal law requiring reporting of the information and, if necessary, a pre-addressed envelope is included for the contributor's convenience. In addition, when, or if the committee receives a response, the campaign report is amended to reflect the new information.

I also make every attempt to search for missing information myself, while waiting for a response via the internet by doing a search through Google.

I believe the numerous empty information fields on this past report was a unique situation. I did speak to the FEC technical support staff and I will be vigilant in ensuring the data is present on all future reports. As such I have updated that information on Schedule A for those individual contributors for which this information was missed on the original filing.

Please let me know if you require any additional information.

Yours truly,

Maureen A. Doherty
